The following notice of the publication is from the Boston Evening Transcript:—

The AMERICAN JOURNAL OF NUMISMATICS is one of those publications that indicates how, with all the bustle, utilitarianism, and intense devotion to the practical present, characteristic of this age and country, some are to be found with taste and zeal, to look after the things which concern history and æsthetics, and keep up the annals even in departments the rushing public leave behind as of no account. The handsome January number is another evidence of the care of the Committee of Publication, who have filled it with curious and entertaining matter, the result of correspondence and research; winding up their own sober labors with a bit of humor after the brief-jotting fashion. To all who care for medals, coins, and much else that relates to archæological investigation, the advice is—do as the disinterested editors themselves do—subscribe for this serial and pay ($2 a year) in advance.

LIBRARY OF ABORIGINAL AMERICAN LITERATURE.

General Editor and Publisher,

DANIEL G. BRINTON, M.D., 115 South Seventh St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The aim of this series is to put within the reach of scholars authentic materials for the study of the languages, history, and culture of the native races of North and South America. Each of the works selected will be the production of a native author, and will be printed in the original tongue, with an English translation and notes. They will be printed from type, and in limited editions only. The volumes will be sold separately, either in paper or bound in cloth. The following have already appeared:—

No. I. THE MAYA CHRONICLES. Edited by Daniel G. Brinton, M.D. 1 vol. 8vo., pp. 279. Price, paper, $3.00; cloth, $3.50.

This volume contains five brief chronicles in the Maya language of Yucatan, written shortly after the Conquest, and carrying the history of that people back many centuries. To these is added a history of the Conquest, written in his native tongue, by a Maya Chief, in 1562. The texts are preceded by an introduction on the history of the Mayas; their language, calendar, numeral system, etc.

No. II. THE IROQUOIS BOOK OF RITES. Edited by Horatio Hale, Esq. 1 vol. 8vo. Price, paper, $3.00; cloth, $3.50.

The "Book of Rites" is a native composition, which was preserved orally for centuries, and was written down about a century ago. It gives the speeches, songs, and ceremonies which were rehearsed when a chief died, and his successor was appointed. The fundamental laws of the League, a list of their ancient towns, and the names of the chiefs, who composed their first council, are also comprised in the work.

No. III. THE COMEDY-BALLET OF GUEGUENCE. Edited by Daniel G. Brinton, M.D. 1 vol. 8vo. Paper, $2.00; cloth, $2.50.

A curious and unique specimen of the native comic dances, with dialogues, called bailes, formerly common in Central America. It is in the mixed Nahuatl Spanish jargon of Nicaragua, and shows distinctive features of native authorship. The Introduction treats of the ethnology of Nicaragua, and the local dialects, musical instruments, and dramatic representations of that section of our continent.

Other important works, in various native languages, are in the course of preparation, under competent editorship. Of these may be mentioned—

THE NATIONAL LEGEND OF THE GREEKS. Edited by A. S. Gatschet.

THE ANNALS OF THE CAKCHIQUELS. By Ernantez Xahila.

THE ANNALS OF QUAUHTITLAN. Edited by A. F. Bandelier.

ABORIGINAL AMERICAN ANTHOLOGY. Edited by Daniel G. Brinton, M.D.
